1. Overview

This guide explains common elements of an employer-sponsored group health insurance plan. Actual coverage is determined only by the current insurer policy, schedule, and approved employee communication.

2. Typical plan features

- Hospitalization cover, subject to the policy's sum insured and exclusions.
- Cashless treatment at network hospitals where pre-authorization is approved.
- Reimbursement claims where permitted by the insurer and submitted with required documents.
- Eligible dependants may be covered if enrolled within the insurer's permitted window.
- Coverage limits, room-rent rules, waiting periods, co-payments, and exclusions vary by plan.

3. Enrolment checklist

- Confirm employee details and eligible dependant details in the HRMS.
- Review the policy schedule, coverage limits, exclusions, and network hospital list.
- Submit enrolment or changes within the communicated window.
- Keep the e-card, policy number, insurer helpline, and claim instructions accessible.

4. How to access care

For planned admission, contact the insurer/TPA and the hospital insurance desk before admission. For emergencies, seek immediate care first and notify the insurer as soon as practical. Follow the insurer's instructions for cashless authorization or reimbursement.

5. Common claim documents

- Health insurance e-card and identity proof
- Claim form and discharge summary
- Itemized hospital bills and payment receipts
- Prescriptions, investigation reports, and other records requested by the insurer

6. Important limitations

This sample does not promise any specific coverage or reimbursement. The insurer's policy wording and decisions govern claims. Contact HR for the current plan documents and insurer contact details.
